

May 23, 2003

Dear Jennifer and Staff,

Enclosed is a copy of the President's Education Award Lindsay received on the last day of school. The award is given to students who maintain a "90" or above average during their three years of middle school (6-8 grade.)

I am so proud of her, and all the hard work she has done. I would like to thank all of you at Academic Solutions for providing Lindsay with the tools she needs to be successful in school.

Sincerely,

Gloria Schuy

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

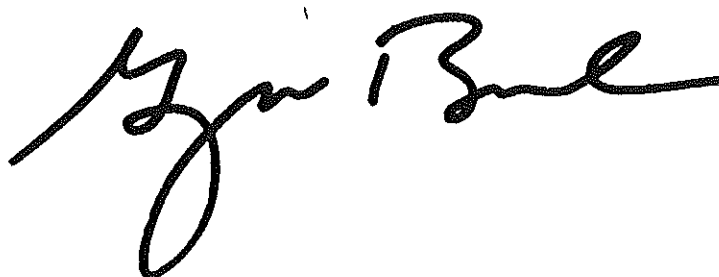

January 17, 2003

Congratulations on receiving the President's Education Award.

Education is one of our Nation's top priorities, and one of our greatest challenges is to ensure that all of our children receive a first-class education in America. My Administration is working to make every public school in our country a place of high expectations and achievement. You have contributed to this important goal by working hard and maintaining an impressive standard of excellence.

As you welcome new opportunities and face new challenges, I encourage you to continue to set high goals and pursue your dreams. America needs your idealism, your hope, and your energy. By continuing to do well in school, making the right choices, and helping others in your community, you strengthen our Nation and help point the way to a brighter future for all.

Mrs. Bush joins me in sending our best wishes for future success. May God bless you, and may God continue to bless America.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "George W. Bush". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a large initial "G" and a long, sweeping underline.